Len and Linda's trip to Norway

May 9-30, 2007
The World's Most Beautiful Voyage

Every day year round 11 Norwegian Coastal Voyage ships call at 35 ports along the coast of Norway delivering goods and mail. For the visitor, each port of call is a unique encounter with Norwegian coastal culture and landscape. "On the uttermost barren isle", wrote Henrik Ibsen. You'll see an isolated island at the mouth of a fjord with one house, a boathouse and a quay which has long been home to people who live in harmony with nature. New meets old on the Norwegian Coastal Voyage. This is a journey of contrasts: this is a voyage of a lifetime.

We will sail May 18 on the Finnmarken from Bergen and return to Bergen on May 29

UNESCO includes Norwegian fjords on "World Heritage List"

National Geographic Magazine's Nov/Dec 2006 issue had 94 World Heritage Sites evaluations by experts in ecology, sustainable tourism, preservation and more. The best rated World Heritage site is Norway's West Fjords.

Amazingly, this is Norway's first natural attraction on UNESCO's World Heritage List, listed on 11/30/2005.

In addition, five cultural attractions have also been found worthy: 1. Bryggen (the old Hanseatic wharf in Bergen),

2. The 12th century Urnes Stave church, 3. The petroglyphs at Alta, 4. The old mining town of Røros and last year 5. The Vegan Archipelago was added. The first two are located in Fjord Norway, the western part of the country. The Nærøfjord is perhaps the most spectacular arm of the Sognefjord and the narrowest fjord in the world - at one point only 250 meters with mountains towering 1800m above its tranquil waters. The Geirangerfjord, farther north, is known for its pristine beauty and magnificent waterfalls. Fittingly, UNESCO finds not just these bodies of seawater, but the entire landscapes, worthy of preservation. Peering down onto the fjords from fertile mountain ledges there are farms, many of them still in use.

Your journey begins in Bergen, a harbor town established by the Viking King Olav more than nine hundred years ago. It quickly became the center of Norway's vibrant commercial trade, especially in dried cod, with northern Europe and the British Isles. By the late Middle Ages, the Hanseatic League had set up a trading post on the Bryggen waterfront. Some of those buildings with seaward-facing gables you'll see along the wharf date back to the fourteenth century!

From Bergen, you'll sail north to Kirkenes, an arctic outpost near the Russian border, stopping at 34 uniquely picturesque ports along the way. The ship then turns around, and sails south back to Bergen. She'll call on the same ports, but those visited during the day on the northbound voyage will now be visited during the night on the southbound voyage, and vice versa. For passengers who seek immersion in the landscape and culture of Norway, this roundtrip voyage is a compelling choice. You are guaranteed days filled with majestic scenery—spectacular fjords, snow-capped mountains, and an astonishing variety of flora and fauna. Make sure to pack your camera and binoculars for this “The World's Most Beautiful Voyage.”

14 May – Monday: Norway in a Nutshell with The Sognefjord tour

Oslo–Myrdal–Flam– “The Most Scenic Train Trip in Europe” –Balestrand-Bergen

Different international ratings consider the train ride between Oslo and Bergen the most exciting and beautiful train ride in the world. No other train ride between two cities in Europe is at a higher altitude than the one between Oslo and Bergen. Its highest point is Finse, at 1222 meters above the sea level. During the ride you will witness amazing nature. If you have extra time it is highly recommend that you take the short detour with Flåmsbanen when you arrive in Myrdahl. This will take you down to the innermost corner of the Aurlandfjord.

Depart Oslo at 08:11 am onboard the Bergen Railway. Enjoy the breathtaking scenery of the Hallingdal Valley and across the Hardanger Plateau. The 300-mile trip passes ski centers, frozen lakes and snow dusted ridges. Arrive at the village of Myrdal around 13:00 and transfer to the Flam Railway.

The train journey begins at 2,841 feet above sea level, descending through the Flam Valley: You'll see snow-covered mountains, green valleys and the thundering Kjos Waterfall. This train journey provides some of Norway's wildest and most magnificent scenery. On the 20 km-long train ride you can see rivers that cut through deep ravines, waterfalls cascade down the side of steep, snow-capped mountains and mountain farms that cling dizzily to sheer slopes. The Flåm Railway is one of the world's steepest railway lines on normal gauge. The gradient is 55/1000 on almost 80% of the line. The twisting tunnels that spiral in and out of the mountain are manifestations of the most daring and skilful engineering in Norwegian railway history.

Arrive an hour later in Flam at 14:00. Lunch in Flam is on your own.

At 15:34 depart via the hydrofoil ferry boat No 1 to the picturesque village of Balestrand; arrive around 17:00. At Balestrand you'll have dinner at the famous Kvikne's Hotel, where you'll also spend the night at in a fjord view room, Dinner and breakfast are included

15 May – Tuesday – Continue to Bergen

Balestrand–Bergen – After a buffet breakfast at your hotel leave Balestrand by fjord ferry at noon. For the next two hours you'll again experience the ever-changing scenery of the Sognefjord, before arriving in Bergen around 14:00. Transfer to the hotel. Lunch and dinner is not included.

Telephone: (011)+(47) 55-30 87 00

The Thon Hotel Bryggen Orion is a first-class, contemporary hotel situated in a great location at Bryggen, the world-famous wharf area of old restored buildings, between Hakkonshallen and the Church of Maria. Public transport is nearby, but the center of town is only a five-minute walk away. The guestrooms feature a modern decor and a complete selection of amenities. The hotel features a bar and restaurant. A Scandinavian breakfast is included.

16 May – Wednesday: ½ Day of Sight-seeing

After breakfast, depart the hotel at 09:00 am, return for lunch by noon

We will visit the Old Bergen and Troidhaugen, Edward Griegs House (includes all entrance fees)

Afternoon is at leisure for you to explore more on your own.

17 May – Thursday:

This is a National Holiday - Norway's Independence Day/Constitution Day is today; it's also Ascension Day

This day is free at leisure for you to explore on your own.

Things to see in Bergen:

Visit the Statsraad Lehmkuhl, the historic tall ship with its cloud of white sails. Visit historic Håkons Hall, or take a ride on the funicular Fløien for a spectacular view of the city.

Bryggen

Architecturally, this is Norway at its most medieval state, featuring homes where the sea merchants lived and traded along the coast. Still lined with Hanseatic homes, which were rebuilt after a fire destroyed many buildings in 1702. This area is right along the harbor and near the fish market. A stroll down the distinctive street is a must and a guided tour is recommended for an in-depth look at Norwegian life since the 1300's.

Gamle Bergen

Old Bergen is a UNESCO World Heritage Site

This outdoor museum depicts life in the 18th and 19th centuries. You'll find at least 40 houses in the style of those eras, as well as a bakery, dentist, watchmaker, shopkeeper and more. The guided tours are informative and interesting, and you can't get into the houses and shops unless you are part of a tour, so it's worth waiting on one (they start every hour on the hour).

Fish Market

This market mysteriously appears and disappears daily, and despite the name, it offers far more than just fish. Vegetables, fruits, breads, sandwiches (often featuring fresh fish, of course), sweaters, wooden boxes, crafts and more can be found here. The colorful stalls are full of locals making purchases, and the experience is a must for those of us who are used to buying everything neatly packaged and processed at the store. Then, as quickly as they arrived, all of the vendors, tables, and products are gone by early afternoon - until tomorrow.

Floi Banen Funicular Railway

This exhilarating eight-minute ride to the summit of Mount Floyen finishes with some of the most spectacular views in Norway. The trip gives visitors a glimpse of how large Bergen is, revealing that there is much more to it than just the popular wharf area. View the seven hills that protect Bergen, hike the trails of Bergen Park, and dine in the popular fine restaurant or casual café located at the peak.

18 May – Friday/Day 1 – Bergen

The morning and afternoon are free to explore Bergen.

This evening at 8PM we depart on Finnmarken for 12 days cruising the Norwegian fjords which are famous world wide.

A fjord is a valley formed by glaciers and filled with the sea to form a steep-walled inlet. You will find two of the world's three longest fjords in Norway. UNESCO has included Norwegian fjords on its World Heritage List, and National Geographic has ranked Norwegian fjords the most popular of all World Heritage sites. The fjords were carved out in a succession of Ice Ages. The ice retreated 10-12,000 years ago and has made the Norwegian fjords famous world wide.

19 May – Saturday/Day 2

Maløy–Torvik–Alesund–Molde–Kristiansund

When you awake, the ship will be crossing the open Stadthavet and heading for Torvik. En route, you'll stop in the beautiful Art Nouveau town of Alesund.

Between April 15 and September 14, all ships call at Geiranger in the Geirangerfjord, a UNESCO World Heritage site, to see the beautiful Brudesloret, Friaren, and the Seven Sisters waterfalls.

After a call at Molde—its magnificent view of the Romsdal Alps made it a favorite vacation spot of Henrik Ibsen—the ship will carefully navigate the Hustadvika, a belt of islets and skerries, before docking at Kristiansund. Optional shore excursions available.

20 May – Sunday/Day 3

Trondheim–Rorvik

The ship arrives early this morning in ancient Trondheim, where you'll have time to explore this jewel of a city, Norway's first capital. Did you know that the first Viking sale of goods from “the new found land” took place here about 1000 AD? Timber from Liev Eriksson's Vinland estate was sold to a Bremen merchant.

Walk the charming streets, sit by the peaceful harbor, or cross the old city bridge to see the restored wooden buildings in Baklandet and the great gothic cathedral of Nidaros, where the new kings of old Norway once received their official blessing.

From Trondheim, the ship sails on to Rorvik, where the southbound and northbound coastal ships meet. Optional shore excursions available.

21 May – Monday/Day 4

Ornes–Bodo–Stamsund–Svolveaer

Today you'll cross the Arctic Circle. Of course you can't actually see the line, but on your portside, the globe on the island of Vikingen serves as a marker. There are spectacular sites ahead: islands and skerries with majestic rock formations, whose origins are the stuff of legend. After Bodo, the ship heads out to open sea for the Lofoten Islands with their picturesque cabins on stilts and weathered wooden racks with drying cod. In the evening, she'll navigate the narrow Raftsund Strait, passing the looming crags of the Trollfjord. Optional shore excursions available.

22 May – Tuesday/Day 5

Harstad–Finnsnes–Tromsø–Skjervoy

This morning you'll pass the medieval Trondenes church before calling at Harstad for breakfast. Afterward, you'll sail across the Vagsfjord past the great island of Senja with its diverse countryside of farmland, pine trees, and plunging peaks. Later you'll stop at Tromsø, the "Paris of the North." In the 19th century, Russian, British, Dutch, and German ships called here before heading off on Arctic expeditions for hunting whales, walrus and seals. Optional shore excursions available.

23 May – Wednesday/Day 6

Hammerfest–Havoysund–Honningsvåg–Kjollefjord–Mehamn–Berlevag–Kirkenes

Finnmark's landscape is austere in its beauty, teeming with wildlife. Watch for rookeries of puffins and gannets along the cliffs and pods of orca hunting for herring. After calling at Honningsvåg, the capital of the North Cape, the ship heads east toward the pretty fishing villages of Kjollefjord, Mehamn, and Berlevag.

24 May – Thursday/Day 7

Kirkenes–Vardo–Batsfjord–Berlevag

On the seventh day, you'll arrive at Kirkenes, the journey's northern terminus and turning point. After a few hours docked at Kirkenes, the ship will depart upon the southbound half of her voyage, calling during the day at ports passed at night on the trip northward. Crossing Varangerfjord, Norway's only east-facing fjord and a fabled bird-watching site, you'll arrive in Vardo, the easternmost point of the country. Next the ship will round the Varanger peninsula, where archaeologists excavated a community believed to date from 9000 BC. In the evening, the ship calls at Batsfjord, which also boasts the remains of a Stone Age settlement, and Berlevag. Look out for the Tanahorn mountain, which long ago was a Sami sacrifice site.

25 May – Friday/Day 8

Honningsvåg–Havøysund– Hammerfest–Oksfjord–Skjervøy–Tromsø

The ship arrives at Honningsvåg in the early morning. After calling at Havøysund, she will stop for 1 1/2 hours in Hammerfest, the world's most northerly town. Despite its remote location, it was the first Norwegian town to have electric street lighting and its own power station. She then heads south to Oksfjord, whose glacier calves directly into the sea. After crossing open water, the ship calls at the old trading post of Skjervøy. You'll dock in Tromsø just in time to savor its nightlife. Optional shore excursions available.

26 May – Saturday/Day 9

Harstad–Risøyhamn–Sortland– Stokmarknes–Svølvær–Stamsund

The island groups of Lofoten and Vesterålen have some of the most stunning scenery on this journey. Before your arrival, you'll see the captain skillfully maneuver the ship through the shallow waters of the Risøyrenna Channel, where sand banks are visible through the green water on both sides of the channel. The ship will negotiate the narrow Raftsund Strait leading into the breathtaking Trollfjord, before arriving in Svølvær and Stamsund. Later, the ship heads east across Vestfjord toward Bodo. Optional shore excursions available.

27 May – Sunday/Day 10

Ornes–Nesna–Sandnessjøen– Bronnoysund–Rorvik

From Ornes, you'll travel through crystalline waters, filled with spawning cod from January to April, and go by lush agricultural fields. Nearly every towering peak you'll see is associated with a local legend. Crossing the Arctic Circle once again, you'll pass the idyllic island of Sandnessjøen. On the approach to Bronnoysund, which you reach this afternoon, you'll spy the mythical Seven Sisters Mountains. Make sure you're on deck when the ship departs Bronnoysund—you'll be impressed by the captain's steady hand! Today's last port of call will be Rorvik.

Trondheim–Kristiansund–Molde

Arrive in Trondheim early, with time to visit Norway's largest medieval church, Nidaros Cathedral, and the restored Archbishop's Residence. You'll then sail out through the beautiful Trondheimsfjord, past Hitra, island of deer, and lonely Grip. At day's end, you'll call at Molde, before arriving in Alesund late in the evening in time for a stroll on shore. Optional shore excursion available.

29 May – Tuesday

Torvik–Maloy–Floro–Bergen

During the night, the ship will call at Torvik, Maloy, and Floro. The World's Most Beautiful Voyage is drawing to a close.

Yet still ahead lies mile after mile of spectacular west Norway scenery: holly trees on Svanoy, the mouth of Sognefjord, and the beautiful archipelago on the approach to Bergen.

At 14:30 arrive Bergen and transfer to the Thon Hotel Bryggen Orion for 1 night

Here are a few Frequently Asked Questions about the Norwegian Coastal Voyage:

Are your ships like other cruise ships?

Though they are working ships as well as passenger ships, most of the Norwegian Coastal ships look and feel like cruise ships. Most of the ships are outfitted with spacious, art-filled public areas, exercise rooms, saunas, hair dryers in the cabins, elevators, and stabilizers. Unlike traditional cruises, however, there is no organized entertainment on board. Mother Nature is the entertainer! Think of us as your alternative to the traditional cruise.

What are the cabins like?

Cabins aboard the ships are comfortable and cozy. Most feature two lower berths, while some have a mix of two lower and upper/lower berths. Suites and junior suites (some with a balcony and Jacuzzi) are also available. All cabins have private facilities. All ships, except the two classic vessels, have one or more cabins that are wheelchair-accessible.

What if I prefer a single cabin?

There is a limited selection of double cabins available for single occupancy in certain categories only. A single supplement charge is applied.

Are the ships suitable for physically challenged passengers?

All ships, except the two classic vessels, have elevators and cabins specially equipped for physically challenged guests.

Is smoking permitted on board?

Smoking is only allowed outside on deck.

How will I handle my laundry?

All ships, except the two classic vessels, are equipped with self-service laundry facilities, including irons and ironing boards. Detergent is included in the price.

Is there a doctor on board?

Although the ships don't have medical facilities or doctors on board, they are regularly in sight of land. Should a medical emergency arise, the reception staff will contact a doctor at the nearest port. In addition, onboard officers are trained in first aid and can provide emergency assistance.

Are there travel guides on board?

You'll find a travel guide (courier) on board to clarify practical details.

What will the climate be like?

The west coast of Norway is warmed by the Gulf Stream, so you can expect temperatures to be similar to those found in New England. Though temperatures vary from south to north, average temperatures range between 20 and 35 degrees Fahrenheit in the winter and in the summer between 40 and 80 degrees Fahrenheit.

Will I experience the Midnight Sun and the Northern Lights?

The Midnight Sun can be seen above the Arctic Circle from mid-May to late July. The Aurora Borealis, or Northern Lights, is most often seen during the winter months. Unlike the Midnight Sun, which is visible as long as the weather is fair, the Northern Lights can be seen only when the right atmospheric conditions prevail.

What clothes should I bring?

There is no dress code on the Norwegian Coastal Voyage ships. Most passengers wear comfortable, casual clothing that can be layered to accommodate weather changes. A warm sweater, a hat, gloves, light rain gear, and a wind breaker are suggested, and good walking shoes are vital.

What is the tipping policy?

There is a non-tipping policy on all ships. However, if you feel that individual crew or staff members should be rewarded for providing exceptional service, tipping is at your discretion.

How about luggage handling?

Luggage handling is available by request.

Is the onboard voltage 110 or 220?

All vessels have an electrical supply of 220 volts. An adapter and converter are required.

What kinds of meals are served on board?

All meals are included for one-way and roundtrip passengers. Meals are served at set times in the dining room. In high season, mealtimes may vary if there are several sittings. • 07:00–10:00 Breakfast buffet with a wide selection of food • 12:00–14:30 Large lunch buffet with hot and cold dishes and dessert • 18:30–21:00 Three-course dinner.

Can you accommodate special dietary requirements?

We do our best to meet special dietary requirements. All requests for special meals have to be passed on to us well in advance of departure.

Here are the package rates
